POLICE PROCEEDINGS—Saturday, Sept. 13.

Alex. C. Johnson, charged with stealing five pairs of boots, five six-cartridge revolvers, and three Derringer pistols from John H. Merwin; bail in $500 to answer a charge of burglary and stealing in the Circuit Court.
Samuel B. Martin got a little too much in the wind, and consequently became very noisy and boisterous; to prevent the repetition of such an occurrence, he was held to bail in $200 to keep the peace for two months.
Jerry Robinson, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct; he threatened to cut the throat of his wife and everybody else; to prevent such an occurrence, and save the lives of many good citizens, he was held to bail in $100 to keep the peace for two months.
Thomas Conway, charged with drunkenness and exposing his person; having just got his discharge from the army on account of old age, and promising to do better in the future, he was discharged.
Mary Curley, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct; this not being the first offense, and she being very disorderly generally, she was held to bail in $100 to keep the peace for two months.
Edward Morgan and Anna Morgan, charged with stealing $77.60 from Andrew Welsh; bail in $400 to answer in Circuit Court.

We hear a great many complaints of grocery and saloon keepers in the upper part of the city, on the part of soldiers in small squads; going into their respective places of business, and helping themselves to whatever they may see and want, without even thanking them for what they may take. This is all wrong, and we hope that the officers will immediately put a stop to such base proceedings.

Sudden Death.—Friday night, about twelve o'clock, Mr. Henry Snow, who was sitting up with the corpse of a friend's child, on the corner of Brook and Market streets, went into an adjoining room, and threw himself upon a bed, and died instantly of apoplexy. He was a sober, industrious man, and leaves a wife and four children, with a host of friends, to mourn his loss. He will be buried, this morning, by the Odd Fellows, of which body he was a faithful member.

We learn that Brack Smith, a prominent rebel, was arrested at New Castle by the Union cavalry, who recently entered and took possession of that town. He had been playing a very conspicuous part in the drama of the recent rebel raid in that neighborhood.

Mr. Robert Jacobs, of Danville, Ky., has been appointed a deputy clerk in the office of the County Court. This is a good appointment, as Mr. J. is a young man of fine business qualities.

We learn from Captain Kritzlow, that the bridge over Salt river was repaired yesterday, and the train passed over it to this city. It did not proceed, on the downward trip, below Munfordville.

Death of Old Age.—An old lady named Ann Myers died suddenly yesterday morning, on Eleventh street, between Main and Water. She was 77 years of age. The coroner held an inquest.

Main street, from Second street up, was crowded yesterday with Government wagons, going to and coming from the different camps above the city.

On the outside of our paper this morning, will be found several important acts of the Legislature to which we call attention.

Rev. Dr. Dillard, from Fayette county, Ky., will preach at the East Baptist Church on Sabbath morning, and again at night.

A horse, ridden by a soldier, slipped and fell on the sidewalk yesterday. Fortunately, neither were hurt.

PERSONAL.—Lieutenant-Colonel David H. Lane, of the First Wisconsin regiment, arrived in the city yesterday. He tendered his resignation, and the same has been accepted.

John N. Helmke, of Co. A, 284 Indiana, and formerly a well-known druggist in this city, was lately promoted to the responsible position of steward in the United States Army, and has been assigned to duty at No. 1 barracks.

John N. Henline, steward at No. 1 barracks, informs us of the death of J. W. Sadler, formerly a member of Co. E, 30th Tennessee (Confederate troops). His death resulted from typhoid fever and consequent debility.

Major H. Woodberry and Lieutenant J. C. McCormick, of the 81st Indiana Capt. John Kennedy, of the 26th Indiana; Capt. R. J. Vansodell, of the 69th Ohio, and Capt. M. Bateman, of the 24 Kentucky cavalry, arrived in the city yesterday.

Lieut. Wm. Powers, of the 26th Kentucky; Lieut. Jacob Brainer, of the 32d Indiana, and Lieut. C. T. Wharton, of the 19th Illinois, arrived in the city, yesterday, on sick leave.

Lieut. H. Hansheer, of the 32d Indiana, tendered his resignation, and the same has been received.

Capt. M. C. Taylor, of the 15th Kentucky, arrived yesterday on recruiting service. Now is the time to join a noble regiment, and one that has seen service.

REMOVAL OF FRONTIER BELOW.—The city was rife last evening with rumors of a fight at or near Munfordville, yesterday. Upon investigation, we could trace nothing to a definite source. One report was, that a general engagement had taken place between Gen. Buell's command and the rebel forces under General Bragg; another was to the effect that ten thousand of Bragg's advance had been engaged by Gen. Rosecrans's division; still another, that a considerable force of rebels had attacked a Federal force of two thousand, near Cave City, and got the better of them. It is reported also, that a rebel force has burned the woodwork in the tunnel near Woodland.

Upon investigation, we are satisfied that the news is of the grapevine origin, and not to be credited. Such news has not been received at headquarters.

The train proceeded only to Munfordville, the track being torn up at points below. From this, perhaps, arose these conflicting reports. That there will be a fight soon, we have no doubt, unless the Confederate forces get out of the way. It is believed they are avoiding an engagement for the present.

The regular exhibition of the Horticultural Society took place yesterday morning. We were highly gratified to notice the interest taken in these exhibitions, notwithstanding the present difficulties in the country. The hall was well filled with ladies and gentlemen. The display was excellent. Among the choicest collections of the season, we noticed a grape the Louisville seedling, grown by our fellow-citizen, Mr. Sacksteder. They were large and highly favored. Mr. Lawrence Young, had on exhibition, the finest collection of peaches and grapes, that we have seen this season. They were admired by all. Mr. C. C. Carey's Bartlett pears, were also very fine. The collection, altogether, was most excellent, and sold at very fair prices. The exhibition, next Saturday, we hope, will be a large one, and well attended by the "fair sex," whose fair faces ever add to the interest of the meetings.

INQUEST No. 3.—Held at the house of Miss Ann Byers, on east side of Eleventh street, between Main and the river, on the body of Miss Ann Byers, aged about 77 years.—Verdict, came to her death from old age and general debility.

JAMES C. GILZ, Coroner.

INQUEST No. 4.—Held at the house of Charles Bringe, on the corner of Brook and Market streets, on the body of Henry Snow, aged between thirty-five and forty years.—Verdict, came to his death by an overflow of water to the heart. Deceased was a kind husband, a good father, and an exemplary citizen.

JAMES C. GILZ, Coroner.

THANKS.—Capt. J. C. Drury, company F, 94th regiment Ohio volunteers, commanding advanced guard of the 1st brigade, General Ward commanding, and Captain Gibson, company G, desire to express, through your paper, their grateful acknowledgments to Capt. Shallos, and others, for the bountiful repast furnished to their companies last evening. We arrived in the city at dark, and while waiting for our brigade, were furnished with all we needed or could desire. May the All-wise Dispenser of blessings be as liberal to them as they have been to us.

ROOM FOR A FEW MORE.—Capt. R. H. Bremlinger wants a few more young men to fill his company in the Twenty-ninth regiment of Kentucky volunteers, under the gallant Col. Woodruff. Those young men who desire to serve their country, will call immediately at the recruiting office, on Green street, opposite the theater, where they can get all information necessary as to bounty, pay, &c., and be provided with good quarters immediately, in a No. 1 company, commanded by first-rate officers.

ATTENTION, SIXTH WARD GUARDS!—Every member of this company is requested to attend an adjourned meeting, on Monday evening at the Police Court room, on Sixth street, at half past seven o'clock. All loyal men of the Sixth Ward, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five are invited to attend, and join the company. By order of the Captain.

[Journal copy.]

Messrs. O'Bannon & Kean will introduce to the traveling public a large, new, and beautiful four-horse bus to-morrow. This line has become a great institution, and continues to win public favor daily.

The train came in as usual from La Grange, last evening. There was nothing of importance transpiring save that the rebels are not quite so conspicuous as they have been. What few there are "along the line" have nothing to say.

Thanks to the messenger of Adams Express Company for the latest New York and Cincinnati papers.

Services, as usual, in the Fourth Presbyterian Church, this morning, at the usual hour.

WE copy the following notice of a business firm, from the editorial columns of the Journal of yesterday, and heartily endorse all that is said of them:

J. ANTHONY & CO.—Under this firm a new and extensive house has been established in Louisville, for the manufacture and sale of cider, apple, and pear brandy, and for dealing in foreign and domestic liquors, including, especially, pure Bourbon and "whisky." We gladly invite the attention of the trade to the merits of this house and of its members.

The establishment is perhaps the largest and most efficient one of the kind west of the mountains, being constructed on a plan entirely different from any other in the United States, and having a capacity for the manufacture of at least forty barrels of vinegar per day. The proprietors have now on hand a very large stock, and intend to keep a large one on hand constantly, so that they may be enabled at once to supply any demand. They will keep in like manner, a large supply of pickles and apple cider of the first order, together with wine and brandy of all descriptions. Dealing, they extensively and under such advantages, the house can afford to sell, and does in fact offer for sale, everything at the lowest figure current in any market. In short, the establishment is one which the trade cannot afford to pass by, and which we especially exhort the trade by all means to call and examine.

The members of this house are unconditionally and thoroughly loyal, and have never been anything less than Mr. Anthony, the senior member, whom we have known long and know well, we cannot speak too highly as regards either his integrity or his habits and accomplishments as a man of business. He for many years held a most responsible and arduous position in the business department of the Journal office, and speaking from the ample and intimate knowledge of him thus acquired, we declare that in our opinion, no more honest and scrupulously honorable man than he does not live. He is the very soul of integrity. Knowing him as we do, we reckon it a privilege to bear this testimony to his high and unblemished character. We heartily wish him the success of which he is the head a long career of prosperity and of honor.

The theater had a very large and delighted audience last night. Miss Marion McCarthy's songs were the sweetest we ever heard. Mr. Vincent is a perfect trump.

To-morrow night, the young American tragedienne, Miss Mary Provost, will make her appearance in her wonderful impersonation of Media, the Colchian Sorceress. The London Globe, in a criticism, thus speaks of her:

"Miss Mary Provost, an American actress, made a first appearance as Rosalind, in 'As You Like It,' last evening. Miss Provost is an actress of no ordinary spirit and intelligence. Her appearance is prepossessing; her face and figure good. The character in which Miss Provost chose to make her first appearance is one of the most difficult of Shakespeare's heroines. That she is fully aware of the difficult nature of the part she took, the careful study evinced last night most amply demonstrated; every line of her face and every movement of her body, the result of serious consideration of the part. Her style is somewhat elaborate, the very pre-Raphaelism of acting. Each sentence has its gesture, and all throughout she studiously suits the action to the words."

Alf Stewart will sing a popular song, the performance concluding with the popular force of Mr. and Mrs. White.

WE find the following special dispatch in the Bulletin of yesterday:

LAGORKE, Sept. 13. I have just returned from a scouting expedition through Henry and Trimble counties. I left here yesterday morning, and rode all day and night, getting a number of horses and recruits. Could have plenty of rebels, and saw but one, and captured him.

There is a large force of rebel cavalry scouring that country. Five hundred left Newcastle five minutes before we got there. They are all of about Eminence, and the Union men of Newcastle say they have Mr. Thompson, the telegraph operator there, a prisoner, and swear they will make him produce his instruments or they will hang him. They have ascertained that he did not bring his instruments away, and if something is not done soon for his relief he will be compelled to give them up.

A reliable gentleman who has just arrived from Frankfort, having left there yesterday, brings intelligence that the rebel force which held Frankfort has been removed to Bridgeport, five miles southwest of Frankfort, on the rapids.

JOHN A. MORRIS, Captain Home Guards.

DECEASED SOLDIERS.—The following is a list of the names of soldiers who died in general hospital in this city during the week ending Friday, September 12, 1862:

1.—Richard Henry Co., Provost Guard.
2.—John H. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.
3.—J. W. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.
4.—J. W. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.
5.—J. W. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.
6.—J. W. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.
7.—J. W. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.
8.—J. W. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.
9.—J. W. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.
10.—J. W. Co., Co. B, 1st Ind.

A letter to the Journal from Murfreesboro, Tenn., Sept. 4th, says that John W. Sparks, a private in Captain Stone's Louisville Battery, was killed at that place on the evening of the 3d inst., by a collision of railroad cars. He was a citizen of Louisville.

Cincinnati is safe at last. The enemy that never was there has fallen back. Of course he has. Will he be left to get away as easily as he came? Porkopolis was scared out of its wits, when there never was the slightest danger.

The Cincinnati papers are trying to figure up a large force before that city. They count the rebels by the mile. It will not do. There were neither miles nor acres of rebels about there.

Gen. Thomas has assumed the command of the post of Nashville, Tennessee.

HEADQUARTERS, LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, Sept. 13th, 1862.

[Special Order, No. 18.]

III. Captain Geo. W. Lampton is hereby appointed Provost Marshal of Jeffersonville, Ind., and will be obeyed as such.

By command of Brig. Gen. Boyle.
S. L. S. A. C. S. S. A. A. G.

Mr. Geo. T. Montch is the agent for Messrs. J. C. & Co. of New Albany, Ind. His depot is on Third, between Market and Jefferson streets. He is fully prepared to supply the trade, and fill all orders for home consumption. Mr. M. is well known business man, and will give general satisfaction to all who have dealings with him.

THE SUE OF SHARP SHOOTING.—This is an old story, and one which has been told many times. It is a story of a man who was a sharp shooter, and who was killed by a sharp shooter.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AMERICAN WATCHES FOR SOLDIERS! At Reduced Prices.

THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY GIVE notice, that they have lately formed a new style of Watch, expressly designed for soldiers and others who desire a good watch at a moderate price.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE. There is no Hair Dye in use so pure, so free from all objectionable ingredients, that produces such splendid and permanent tints, or that operates so quickly, uniformly and certainly.

CRISTADORO'S EXCELSEUR HAIR DYE. This hair-dye is pronounced, by all who have ever applied it, to be the most wonderful invention of the age. It restores the hair to its natural color, and keeps it from falling out.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR RESTORATIVE. Manufactured by J. CRISTADORO, 642 North Main, New York. Sold everywhere, and applied by all Hair Dressers.

Dr. Roback's Stomach Bitters. Having had twenty years' experience in compounding medicines, we take the liberty of saying that our Stomach Bitters are the best we have ever seen, and that their moderate use will do more to invigorate and restore the weak than anything else offered to the public.

Madam A. Jones wishes to say to all her old friends and customers that she is located at No. 314 Fourth street (over Mrs. Bryan's store), where she will be happy to see them, and all others who wish to buy or make up, or make any thing, of every best and latest style. Patterns of every description always on hand. Ladies who wish to cut their own dresses can be taught to do by model.

When Will this War End? When President-making no longer is thought of; When army contractors are hanged or all bought off; When Generals no longer of Generals get jealous; When the President don't meet all men as "half-fellows"; When the people all learn good sense and buy their clothing at J. M. Armstrong's, on Main, opposite the National.

WE would call the attention of officers and soldiers desiring any thing in the line of Groceries, to the well-known house of Green and Green, on Fourth and Main streets. They are thoroughly posted in their business, having been furnishing the army since the commencement of the war. They make the finest cap worn in the army.

A SEASONABLE HINT.—The season for the purchase of Groceries is at hand; and the number of cases already occurring evinces that it will prevail to a considerable extent, and every precaution should be used to guard against it, as well as every means to be used to protect the health of the community. We have no desire to multiply words, and will appeal to the wisdom of our most noted and popular citizens, Hon. C. A. Wickliffe.

Messrs. Sumner & Co. I purchased one of Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines about a year ago. It is a great labor saving machine. I regard it as a valuable improvement and invention. I prefer the machine to any I have seen, on account of its quietness, simplicity, speed and durability, and I do most sincerely recommend it to others.
